

The calculations in this course can be completed using a basic calculator; although, using a spreadsheet can speed up the process. If you do not already have access to Microsoft Excel, consider using Google Sheets, which is a free spreadsheet program that's part of Google Workspace.

To learn more about navigating Google Sheets, consider enrolling in edX's Intro Course: Spreadsheets and Statistics.