

In this lesson, you'll be introduced to the basics of finance. We'll start by defining money and its purpose, then we'll delve into finance—the industry of managing money. By the end of the lesson, you'll understand what investors mean when they use these terms, and you'll be one step closer to performing your own financial analyses. Let's get started!